

A 10x10 heatmap visualization. The color scale ranges from dark blue (low values) to light blue (high values). A small cluster of red and pink cells is visible in the center, indicating a localized high-value region. The rest of the grid shows a smooth gradient from dark blue to light blue, with the lightest blue cells forming a diagonal band from the top-left to the bottom-right.

